Major W. T. Sutherlin, president of the State Board of Agriculture, has prepared and will in a day or so forward his annual report to the Governor. The paper deals with the affairs of the department and with matters of interest to agriculturists of Virginia generally. It is an interesting document. Here it is in full:

I have the honor to submit the fifth aunual report of the State Board of Agriculture, to which your attention is invited:

The board has found itself somewhat embarrassed by the terms of appropriations, while the amount has been somewhat increased. There is lack of authority from the Legislature to use any part of the fund appropriated directly for immigration.

The annual appropriation of $10,000 has, by the largely-increased work of the department, been insufficient for the expenses in properly carrying out the intention of the Legislature and the wishes of the people. The amount received from fertilizer fees and work in the laboratory has in the past been put in gross into the treasury. The last appropriation act struck out this provise, but it was too late in the fiscal year for the board to avail itself of it fully, and only a part could be used and $4,471.62 was returned to the treasury on the 30th of September. Legislation distinct and simple is greatly needed in regard to fertilizer control and the direct application of the money arising from the work of the department laboratory.

FARMESS' INSTITUTES. ment. Here it is in full : 3. W. Anderson against C. N. Goodwis, for $500.

Peter Wall & Sons against Harvell & Shaw for $700.

Thathimer Brothers against Mrs. Sally H. Chaikley and S. H. Holland for $402.07.

Fourqurean, Price & Co., against Mrs. Sally H. Chaikley for $300.

In the case of Charles Miller against the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company. action for damages for injury to person, the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff for $1,500. The suit was for $5,000.

In the case of S. B. Stokes against the Chesapeake and Ohic Railway Company for $5,000, the jury was sworn and adjourned over until this morning.

The board has been quite successful in holding farmers' institutes in different sections of the State, and while the attendance of farmers has been generally small, the addresses of the distinguished gentlemen invited to address these institutes have been so full and so valuable in the interest of agriculture and diversibed industries that the board has deemed it proper to publish most of them in the annual report for the instruction of the people of the State.

The inspection and analyses offertifizers has been much larger than in any previous year and has been attended with greatly-increased labor and cost.

By action of the Legislature the expenses of the department have been considerably increased by the cost of transportation of all officers and employees of the department, which was heretofore granted free of charge.

THE VIBELINIA HAND-BOOK.

THE VIRGINIA HAND-BOOK.

The virginia hand-book.

The board has taken active measures to secure at an early day the publication of a hand-book, as required under the law. It is their purpose to make this hand-book as full as possible, embracing a report of each county in the State as well as a general report embracing all the information necessary to give a full exhibit of population and products, &c., of the different counties and sections of the State with an accurate map of Virginia, and also a map and chart of her geographical deposits with their location, together with such other literature as may be deemed necessary for the interest and information of the farmers of Virginia and other persons seeking the same. It is their purpose to publish a sufficient number of hand-books with an ample supply of other literature to supply sufficient number of hand-books with an ample supply of other literature to supply the farmers and others of Virginia and also for distribution among the visitors at the World's Fair, which will, in the opinion of the board, afford such facilities for making Virginia known as she has never been offered before.

CROPS ARE DIVERSIFIED. It is a source of congratulation that the farmers of Virginia during the present year have given more attention to diversified crops than heretofore, and while their aurplus of the various products will have to be disposed of at low prices, they will have a better supply of food at home than for many years previous.

We would respectfully submit for your consideration the enactment of such laws. nsideration the enactment of such laws will secure a full and accurate annual stistical report as will furnish reliable formation as to population, crops of the rious kinds, new industries, &c., &c., as il hereafter show in all respects the owth and improvement of the State in lable form as is provided for in most of the States.

We would direct your special attention to the very full and elaborate report of the commissioner and the accompanying documents, and especially his suggestion for the purchase of an experiment farm, to be operated largely by convict labor under the direction of the board.

This is a new question in this State, and while the board is not fully prepared to endorse the suggestions of the commissioner they are of the opinion that under proper regulation of law it missioner they are of the opinion that under proper regulation of law it might be operated with some profit to the State and the experiments might furnish the farmers and others in Virginia valuable and reliable information.

The operation and success in other States are well worthy of your investigation in forming a conclusion on this sub-

States are well worthy of your investigation in forming a conclusion on this subject.

PRAISE THE COMMISSIONER AND OTHERS.
We deem it proper to state that the commissioner and all the employees have discharged their respective duties well and in a manner satisfactory to the board.

We would most respectfully direct your attention to the suggestions for legislation on various subjects for the benefit of the farmers of Virginia contained in our last annual report for such action as you may deem proper. We have seen no reason to change our opinion upon the recommendations then made, and hope that some future Legislature will take up these variances are subjected by the subject of the production of taxed tobacco and sund over the fiscal year of 1891 was 11,230,330 pounds; the increase in tobacco and sund imported and withdrawn for consumption was 93,713 pounds. The increase during the last fiscal year in future Legislature will take up these vari-ous subjects and give them the considera-tion we think they demand. on we think they demands on we think they demands.
Respectfully submitted,
W. T. SUTHERLIN,
President.

Interesting Legal Point Raised.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Ralkien, N. C., December 2.—In the Supreme Court to-day there was a long argument in an extremely important case to lawyers. It is the first time the point was ever taised. In the case of Herndon against an it surance company the defendant filed in the Supreme Court a petition to rehear under a rule of court. This was referred to a single member of the court, who passed upon it and disallowed it. The petitioner now sets up the claim that under the statute a petitioner is entitled to the decision by the entire court as to whether the case can be reheard, and not by a single member of the court, the statute giving any party the right to file a petition to rehear before the court as a court. Number admitted during the year, 93

Marble Statue of Virginia Dare. (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) Raikien, Docember 2.—Miss Laura Lauder, of Washington, D. C., writes Governor Holt that it is her special dasire to sell to this State her beautiful marble statue of Virginia Dare. She wishes it to be placed in the Capito here, as indeed it ought to be. She thinks that perhaps the school children of the State will raise a fund for the purchase of the statue, or else the Virginia Dare Memorial Association may acquire it. Croshed to Death by a Train.

Sandy Clayton, a colored man 24 years of age, who worked on the Clyde-Line deck, was killed yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by a shifting train of the Richmond and Danville railroad. The deceased boarded the cars on Dock street near Ash, and while swinging on he was struck by a telegraph-pole, and falling under the wheels met almost instant death. His arm was broken and he was magled internally, although his body showed but little sign of injury. Coronor Taylor viewed the remains and made a thorough investigation of the accident, which was due entirely to the carelessness of the deceased. None of the men on the train knew that Clayton had boarded the cars. The body of the dead man, who resided in Fulton, was turned over to friends. lay. Christmas-trees are now being talked of here. The New York Heraid has the following account of the heat which she rau on Thursday with Harry C. the dog that was placed first, and her faultless and higher class of work clearly entitled her to first place:

"Harry C. and Lora ran a dashing heat with sharp work on scattered birds, each pointing with quickness and precision. Lora was a higher-class worker, showing most excellent knowledge of flaid work. She performed aktifully in every detail of pointing, backing, finding, and ranging. Harry also performed well, but his work was of a lower class, though excellent. Miss Ruby made a superior showing with Hempstead Duke.

"The judges held a long consultation and there appeared to be a difference of opinion among them. They awarded Greenfield Hill Kennel's senter doe Harry C. first; Pierre Lorillard, Jr. a setters, Lora and Miss Ruby, second and third respectively. Lora was the best worker in the stake." Lora and Miss Ruby, the winner of third, are litter sistors, and are granddaughters of Dill's Old Trinket. and his two sisters, both old, were seated in front of a fire. Suddenly there was a knock at the door. It was opened, and in stepped a stranger, a powerfully-built muwho reside in Richmond, will find an illustrated latto, who drew a revolver and demanded article of great interest to them in to-morrow' McDonald's money. BOTH WOMEN KILLED. As he made this demand the elder sister screamed. In an instant the man shot her dead. The other sister shrieked and attempted to run. The murderer shot her down, the ball making a fatal wound. Then he struck McDonald, who is very feeble, and commanded him on pain of instant death to give up all his money.

GAVE ALL HE HAD. McDonald gave him $25-all he shad in the house—and the stranger went away, leaving one woman dead and the other dying within a few teet of her. It was some time before the murder was discovered, McDonald going to a near neighbor's house and calling for help.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 2.—There was taken up this afternoon in the United States Circuit Court here a particularly interesting case. It is the first murder case ever tried in one of these courts in this State, and was transferred from Duplin county. Early in 1830 Henry Edwards, a moonshiner, was arrested near his still by United States Deputy Marshal Zach. Rhodes. Edwards wanted to escape and at a point in the road not far from his house asked to be allowed to go there. Permission was refused, and then Edwards began to struggle with the officer, and finally pulled away from him and ran toward the house, calling for his dogs as he ran. Edwards's wife came out with the dogs, and Edwards's wife came out with the dogs, and Edwards's purpose was to set them on Rhodes. The latter called to Edwards to halt and then fired. He missed and fired again, this time bringing down his man. Rhodes at once sent for a physician, and had Edwards attended to. In three weeks Edwards died. It is a notable case. The case was transferred last year. Judge Thomas C. Fuller, of the United States Land Court, is detained here by the severe illness of his young son. The latter is not yet out of danger. Judge Fuller's Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Mr. Lewis F. > WANTED FOR WIFE MURDER. Secrist Will Be Tried After Serving His Term in South Carolina.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., December 2.—To-day the Governor had a letter from Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, saying that Hoke Secrist alias B. E. Gray, who is wanted by this State, is now in jail at Spartanburg.
S. C., serving a two years' sentence for aggravated assault and battery. This sentence expires November. 1894, and then North Carolina's requisition for the criminal will be honored. Secrist murdered his wife, but escaped death by the insanity dodge, was placed in the insane asylum at Morganton, but soon escaped. The State now wants him for trial for murder.
The Supreme Court has affirmed the sentence of the lower court in the appeal case of Leonidas McKnight, murderer, and next Monday Governor Holt will issue the warrant for his execution, which will occur in January next. One execution is ordered espondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., December I.—[Special to the Associate I Press.]—There was not a ripple during the inauguration of Governor Jones today. The talk about the Kolb people making a row melted away like frost in the sunlight. The Kolb men were at the Capitol in force, but they were not saying a word. Afterwards they did some talking.

At mid-day the Senate and House met in joint session. The gallery was crowded with pretty women. The Governor's inaugural address dealt principally with financial matters, but he took occasion to pour hot shot into the Kolb people, calling them enemies of the State. There is no doubt but that the feeling of the Lexislature is toward a reduction in the tax rate, but Governor Jones boldly advocated an increased the State will have a deficit of $20,000 by next Angust. He said the present condition was brought about by unfortunate depressions following a too-rapid decrease in the tax rate. Then the Governor took the eath, and artillery salute of seventeen gans was fired, while the Speaker of the House presented the Governor with a crayon portrait of himself drawn by a young lady in Birmingham. That was the only unusual thing which occurred. Many persons lingered about and some seemed disappointed, while the Kolb men were bolling with anger. warrant for his execution, which will occur in January next. One execution is ordered by the Governor for this month—that of George W. Best, at Newberne on the 16th, for murder.
